

BUILDING A MOVEMENT WITHIN THE MOVEMENT

WLB marks ten years of gender activism

December 2009

WLB's Values

- Mutual respect and non-discrimination
- Opposing all forms of violence against women and protecting women from violence (believing in & respecting women's human rights)
- Upholding the principles of democracy and equality
- Responsibility, accountability and transparency
- Upholding gender equality.
- Peaceful co-existence

Message from WLB

It has been ten years since we began our partnership to work for gender equality. This booklet highlights some of our key achievements along our path of learning and working together. The path has been rough, and our learning curve steep, but the experience has been tremendously rewarding and fulfilling. Seeing how far we have come since the beginning strengthens our commitment to continue towards our goal.

Of course, one of the main structural obstacles to achieving gender equality in Burma, the system of military dictatorship, remains in place. However, we believe that our achievements are broadening and strengthening the movement for political reform. Only with women's equal participation in the movement, can it be inclusive and broad-based, and thus able to achieve our common goal of a peaceful and just society.

We wish to thank all our friends and supporters who have been at our side over the last ten years. Without their efforts, we would not have accomplished so much in such a short time.

We reaffirm our commitment to continue working to oppose any injustice, inequality and exploitation. We firmly believe that our collective efforts will enable us to realize our goal.

FORUM OF WOMEN FROM BURMA

CHIANG MAI

NOVEMBER 1998

Women of Burma's movement

Before 1988, there were only four ethnic women's organizations from Burma, namely The Karen Women's Organization (KWO), the Kachin Women's Association (KWA), the Karenni National Women's Organization (KNWO) and the Tavoyan Women's Union (TWU). KWO was founded first in 1949.

Between 1988 to 1999

Women in exile were organizing themselves to form into small groups of their own to respond to needs of health and education and social issues such as trafficking and violence against women. More women's organizations were founded.

November 1998

The First Burmese Women's Forum: Already-existing women's groups from areas of Burma bordering with Bangladesh, India and Thailand met for the first time. It was an important landmark in the process leading to the formation of the WLB.

September 1999

A special meeting of women's organizations, which was also a preparatory meeting for the Second Women's Organizations of Burma Conference. Women from various organizations signed an agreement to form an umbrella organization.

Dec 1999: Milestone in the history of Burma

The Second Women's Forum was held. December 9th 1999 was the historic day on which the Women's League of Burma (WLB), the first umbrella organization for women's groups from Burma of different ethnic and political backgrounds, was founded

As an umbrella organization, women are able to gain a stronger voice. The role of WLB is to be a platform for women of Burma to push for political change in Burma and work for gender equality in society. Meanwhile the role of the women of Burma can be enhanced locally, nationally and internationally.

By working together, and encouraging each other, the Women's League of Burma hopes to build trust, solidarity and mutual understanding among women of all nationalities in Burma.

Founding members

- All Burma Democratic Lushai Women's Organization (ABDLWO)
- Burmese Women's Union (BWU)
- Chin Women's Organization (CWO)
- Kachin Women's Association Thailand (KWAT)
- Karen Women's Organization (KWO)
- Karenni Women's Organization (KNWO)
- Lahu Women's Organization (LWO)
- Pa-O Women's Union (PWU)
- Rakhaing Women's Union (RWU)
- Shan Women's Action Network (SWAN)
- Tavoyan Women's Union (TWU)
- Women's Rights and Welfare Association of Burma (WRWAB)

WLB values development of trust, friendship, cooperation, solidarity, participation. These values are fostered not only amongst each other, but equally importantly, with all individuals and organizations with whom they interact.

WLB respects that each member organization has its own history, culture, political circumstances, objectives and challenges.

WLB's strong vision for the future of Burma and her peoples:

A society with equality and elimination of all forms of discrimination.

WLB therefore aims to

- Work for the empowerment and advancement of the status of women
- Work for the increased participation of women in all spheres of society, including in politics at the local, national and international levels
- Build mutual understanding among all nationals and participate in the national reconciliation processes at all levels

WLB strategies

- Capacity Building
- Advocacy

Activities for Capacity Building

- Internship program (at Secretariat and at mother organization through sub-grant project)
- Conducting skills and knowledge trainings, workshops, seminars for women
- Sending women to workshops, trainings, seminars, conferences and internships through networks (local, regional and global)
- Learning and working at the same time on WLB projects/programs/campaigns with fixed time-frame
- Organizational development process (with strategic planning workshops)

Advocacy

WLB advocates on behalf of its member organisations representing women and their families in diverse situations, whether inside Burma, displaced to refugee camps or living as undocumented migrant workers in neighbouring countries. WLB is uniquely positioned to advocate for women and change in Burma because it represents a nexus where grassroots, regional, and international processes meet and connections are made.

The advocacy strategies designed and implemented by the WLB therefore incorporate working at these multiple levels to simultaneously bring the messages of our member organisations to international attention while garnering education, experience, connective relationships and resources to bring back to their related communities.

General activities

- Lobbying for political change in Burma through broad based social movements inside Burma and through garnering support at the international level.
- Calling for gender sensitivity in all social processes that will lead to equality for all through a future federated Burma.
- Advocating for increased women's political participation at all levels of decision making, the provision of welfare services where possible to war and poverty displaced communities, and the education of women at the grassroots level.

At community level

- Gender education, training and empowerment amongst ourselves and within our communities displaced from Burma and inside Burma
- Raising gender issues through programs along borders and inside Burma
- Community–mobilising activities and events along all Burma’s borders

At international level

- Lobbying governments
- Networking and advocating to get the Burma issue included at regional and international forums and UN conferences (UNCHR, UNHR Council, WCAR)
- Active participation at UN processes on the advancement of women and girls.

Since WLB was founded, WLB has been regularly attending the annual UNCHR (and now UNHRC) and UN CSW (Commission on the Status of Women). From 2006, WLB has been participating in the UNSC Resolution 1325 lobby week, and UNGA lobby trip

- Beyond Beijing Process (Process after the Fourth World Conference on Women in Beijing, China in 1995)
- CEDAW shadow reporting process

• Active participation at international women’s forums

- Asia Pacific Women’s Watch’s Asia Pacific NGO Forums for Beijing Process
- Asia Pacific Women’s Networks’ Conferences including Asia Pacific NGO Consultations with UN Special Rapporteurs on thematic issues
- The AWID³ International Conference (every 3 years)

Part II: Achievements of WLB in the past 10 years

I. Within WLB

Institution building & Capacity building

February 2001	The WLB Secretariat office was opened in Chiang Mai
March 2001	WLB six-month intern program begins ⁴
2002	Set up Women as Peacebuilders team under Peace and Reconciliation Program
2003	Setting up WLB website through consultations
2005	Established the Women Against Violence Program ⁵
2005	Established Sub-grant Project for member organizations ⁶
Jan –April 2006	WLB external evaluation ⁷
May 2006	Established Political Empowerment Program
Jan 2007–Aug 2007	Drew up WLB Operational guidelines through Organizational Development process with series of workshops
June 2008 – to date	Emerging Women Leaders Course ⁸

II. Within Burma's male-dominated democracy movement

Dec 2001 & Dec 2002	WLB representatives were included in constitution study tours and seminars in Germany and Belgium
Feb 2002	WLB representatives were included in the MPU's Electoral System fact-finding mission in Sweden ⁹
Jan 2004 - May 2005	A process was carried out to draw up a WLB position paper on Gender Equality by the Constitution Study Team made up of 3 young women ¹⁰
2006 - 2007	30% quota for women included in legislature of the FCDCC federal constitution
2007 - to date	WLB has been increasingly recognised as a political organisation, not just a women's organization. WLB has been invited to "Strategic Coordinating Meetings" for the movement to make political decisions, and also requested to send representatives to join various political processes. WLB's voice and concerns have started to be acknowledged, for example in the democratic opposition's Road Map, and in broad-based alliance building.

III. In the community (through mobilising activities)

From 2001 – date: Organizing trips by WLB¹¹

From 2001	WLB has been organizing the following commemoration days in six areas in Bangladesh, India and Thailand on International Women's Day on 8 March, Daw Aung San Suu Kyi's Birthday on 19 June, and the 8888 anniversary on August 8th.
Jul – Aug 2001	WLB organized WCAR signature campaign ¹² (collected more than 50,000 signatures from all Burma's border areas)
25 Nov 2001 & 2002	Awareness campaign materials production on the occasion of the International Day for the Elimination of Violence against Women
From 2004	The Peace Builder team under Peace and Reconciliation Program has been organizing peace activities on the International Day of Peace in communities along all borders. ¹³
From 2005	The Women Against Violence Program has been organizing Stop VAW Day & 16 Days activism (25 Nov- 10 Dec) through its regional working teams in Bangladesh, China, India and Thailand
8 August 2004	Signature campaign to urge the leaders of the EU and ASEAN to reevaluate their "constructive engagement" policy towards the military regime in Burma. ¹⁴

Solidarity Conference

Voices from India for freedom of Aung San Suu Kyi

27th May 2019

New Delhi

Jun 2005 & 2006	Yellow Campaign for Daw Aung San Suu Kyi

2007 - 2008	Women human rights defenders campaign ¹⁵
2008	Vote No Campaign against the SPDC Constitution referendum
2008	ICC campaign (Burma case referral to ICC)

IV. With the international community

Oct 1999- Jan 2000	CEDAW shadow report process for the 22nd Session of the CEDAW in New York when Burma's country report was reviewed ¹⁶
Feb 2000- Jun 2000	WLB's Beijing Plus Five reporting process
Jan – 7 Sep 2001	WLB process on WCAR and parallel NGO forum in Durban, South Africa ¹⁷
Nov 2003 – Mar 2005	Beijing Plus Ten Process ¹⁸
Nov 2007	International campaign to free women human rights defenders in Burma ¹⁹
Sept 2007 – Aug 2009	2008 CEDAW shadow report process & follow up ²⁰

V. International recognition

2005 Peter Gruber's Women Rights Prize together with our member organization, Shan Women's Action Network (SWAN)²¹

2008 Jeane J. Kirkpatrick Award from International Republican Institute (IRI)²²

2008 Madeline K Albright Award from National Democratic Institute (NDI)²³

Overall Achievements

- Young women who have assumed leadership roles within the WLB have gained experience and have more confidence to speak out and actively participate in meetings/conferences/seminars.
- WLB's participation within the movement has become more visible as WLB is playing a key role in political decision-making processes
- WLB and its member organizations have developed closer connections through program activities (e.g. the Vote No campaign, and CEDAW shadow report process)
- Increased empowerment and capacity of young women from member organizations through the sub-grant project as well as the Emerging Women Leaders School project.
- Members of WLB member organizations have gained increased knowledge of relevant international resolutions and processes such as UNSCR 1325 and the ICC system through WLB training programs.
- WLB has been able to maintain its regional and international links with women's networks and gain support for different activities, as the WLB has established itself as a significant change agent in the women's movement.
- WLB has been able to extend its "inland" project with the aim of mobilizing communities prior to SPDC's upcoming 2010 election.
