A key aspect to learning to adjust to working and living in Malaysia is the ability to deal effectively with the Malaysian culture, both in terms of business and general living. Expatriate Living in Malaysia, provides comprehensive and up to date information on Malaysia's political, economic and social environment to enable expatriates enjoy their stay in the country. This guidebook is divided into 14 broad chapters including living conditions, culture, accommodation, utilities, transportation, medical, education, banking, insurance, leisure and entertainment and shopping. Being well prepared for the cross-cultural experience allows expatriates and their families to predict likely areas of difficulty to minimise the adverse effects of cultural differences.

PREPARING FOR CHANGE

Malaysia is a unique country and has much to offer its visitors for both business and leisure. Having been part of the international spice route for centuries the country has turned into a mosaic of cultures. Peninsula Malaysia was referred to as the Golden Chersonese by the 16th century Greek astronomer and mathematician, Ptolemy in his early map of the maritime spice route between China and the Middle East.

Later, the Portuguese, Dutch and British colonisation from the 16th century that resulted in the coming of Chinese, Indians and Arabs, has also left its mark as evident in the architecture, system of government and culture of the country. Living in Malaysia is a heart-warming experience due to its friendly people and its world-class infrastructure that makes for a convenient and comfortable stay.

While Malaysia is a very easy country to live in and adapt to, preparing for the experience is very important. Malaysian culture is different from many other cultures and this is one of its appealing qualities that attract foreigners to work and live in the country. Many expatriates will be surprised at just how easy it is to live in Malaysia.

BASIC FACTS

The Federation of Malaysia, consisting of 13 States and three Federal Territories was formed in 1963.

Location

Malaysia is located between 2° and 7° north of the Equator. Geographically, Malaysia is as diverse as its culture. Peninsula Malaysia is separated by 400 miles of the South China Sea from the states of Sabah and Sarawak. Thailand is located to the north of Malaysia while to the south lies the island Republic of Singapore. Sabah and Sarawak are bordered by Indonesia while Sarawak also shares a border with Brunei Darussalam. The country has a total land area of 329, 847 square kilometers.

The country is free from major natural calamities and is not known to have experienced major disasters such as earthquakes or typhoons. Kuala Lumpur, the national capital and largest city is the seat of parliament, as well as the commercial and financial capital of the country. Putrajaya is the administrative capital for the Federal Government of Malaysia.

Climate

The country is generally warm throughout the year with temperatures ranging from 25°C to 32°C in the lowlands and between 21°C to 28°C in the highlands. Malaysia has a humid tropical climate with an annual rainfall average of 250 centimetres (100 inches).

Time

Malaysia is eight hours ahead of GMT and 16 hours ahead of US Pacific Standard Time.

People

Malaysia is a multiracial country of 28 million people of different ethnicity, with the majority comprising Malays, Chinese and Indians. Minority groups including, Portuguese, Dutch, Thai, Cambodian, Vietnamese, Japanese and Eurasians also make up the multi-ethnic structure of the population. However, in East Malaysia (the states of Sarawak and Sabah on the island of Borneo) there are some 32 ethnic groups including the majority groups of Dayaks (Sarawak) and Kadazans (Sabah).

Government

Malaysia is a parliamentary democracy with a constitutional monarchy. The King of Malaysia, is commonly referred to as the Yang Di-Pertuan Agong. The 13 states are headed either by Sultans (Rulers) in the nine Malay states and Governors in the other four states.

The Yang Di-Pertuan Agong is elected for a five year term by the nine Sultans. The system of government is based on the United Kingdom model, whereby the Executive branch is headed by the Prime Minister. Parliamentary elections are held every five years.

Economy

Malaysia is an open and fast-growing economy that performed very well on all fronts in 2008 with GDP growth at 6 per cent. The broad-based growth was led by the expansion of the services, manufacturing and agricultural sectors.

The current global financial crisis which will result in slower growth worldwide from 5% in 2007 to 3.7% in 2008 and 2.2% in 2009 will impact Malaysia's economy. The GDP figure for 2008 from MITI is 4.6 per cent and the forecast for 2009 is 3.5 per cent. The inflation rate for 2009 is estimated at 3 - 4 per cent as compared with 2 per cent in 2008.

The Third Industrial Master Plan (IMP3), 2006-2020, outlines the industrial strategies and policies which form part of the country's continuing efforts towards realising Malaysia's objective of becoming a fully developed nation, as stated in Vision 2020. The Malaysian economy targeted to grow at an average rate of 6.3 per cent during the entire Plan period is also facing challenges due to the global financial crisis.

Currency

The Malaysian currency is referred to as Ringgit or RM and is divided into 100 sen. Denominations in circulation are RM1, RM5, RM10, RM50 and RM100 notes. Coins are issued in 5, 10, 20 and 50 sen pieces. Major currencies can be exchanged for Ringgit at banks, authorised money changers and major hotels. Under the managed float system, the Ringgit exchange rate is largely determined by the demand for and the supply of Ringgit in the foreign exchange market. The exchange rate for one USD is around RM3.62 to RM3.68 (February 2009).

It is necessary to exchange the Ringgit to other currencies when travelling outside Malaysia. Major credit cards are accepted in most banks, major hotels, medical centres, airlines, petrol stations, restaurants and retail establishments.

Working Days

All government offices operate on a five-day week. In all states (with the exception of Kedah, Kelantan and Terengganu) Monday to Friday are the working days and Saturday and Sunday are observed as rest days. In the states of Kedah, Kelantan and Terengganu, the working days are from Sunday to Thursday and Friday and Saturday are the weekly rest days. However, private organisations in these states observe Monday to Friday as their working days. If a public holiday (for festivals and special occasions) falls on a non-working day, the following day will be declared a holiday.

Language

Bahasa Malaysia is the National Language although English, Mandarin and Tamil are spoken by many. It is relatively easy for foreigners to communicate with Malaysians as most have a reasonable command of English. Expatriates taking the initiative to learn at least a few words of the National Language will earn respect and will always bring a smile to the locals. There are institutions in Malaysia offering classes for new arrivals to learn Bahasa Malaysia.

For a listing of language institutions, refer to Appendix 2 and Appendix 23.

Religion

Malaysia is a multi-religious society and Islam is the official religion but freedom of worship is guaranteed under the constitution, which reflects the country's racial diversity. All Malays are Muslims by birth; most Chinese can either be Taoist, Buddhist, or Christian. The Indians are either Hindu, Buddhist, Muslim, Sikh or Christian, while many Europeans and Eurasians in the country are predominantly Christians.

LIVING CONDITIONS AND CUSTOMS

Economic stability and social harmony are the prime concerns of the government. Malaysia has achieved an admirable record of maintaining political and economic stability with the same government in power in 51 years of unbroken succession ever since independence. Living standards have improved greatly over the past decade and many Malaysians now have access to services and facilities similar to those in most developed countries.

Malaysia is free from most contagious diseases. Expatriates need special vaccination only if coming from an endemic area. It is advisable to check on health regulations with the nearest Malaysian diplomatic mission before entering the country. The cost of living in Malaysia is relatively inexpensive when compared with many other countries in the world.

For an indication on cost of living relevant to expatriates, refer to Appendix 1.

Important Malaysian Customs

In Malaysia, visitors will discover a wide range of customs and traditions. There are many different traditions found within the various cultures of Malaysia. Identifying and acknowledging the differences within any group of Malaysians is very important for expatriates living and working in the country. Practices like handshaking is the normal form of greeting amongst men and women. The traditional Malay greeting or salam resembles a handshake without the grasp, but with both hands outstretched. The approach is to lightly touch the other person's hands, and then bring both hands back to the chest to mean, "I greet you from my heart." One can reciprocate the salam if they so desire. In the case of Muslim women, it would be prudent to reciprocate only when they extend their hand.

Malaysian Traditional Attire

It is more appropriate to point with the thumb of the right hand rather than point with one finger. It is also considered impolite to beckon any person other than a close friend with a firm wave. Footwear must be removed when entering places of worship such as mosques and temples and also in some homes. Taking of photographs at places of worship is usually not allowed unless permission is granted.

MAJOR FESTIVALS AND PUBLIC HOLIDAYS

Malaysians celebrate a variety of colourful festivals. Major Muslim festivals are Hari Raya Aidilfitri which marks the end of Ramadhan, and Hari Raya Aidiladha. During Ramadhan or the fasting month, Muslims do not consume food or drinks from daybreak until sunset. The Chinese community celebrates various festivals such as the Lunar New Year, Chap Goh Meh and Moon Cake Festival. Hindu celebrations include Deepavali, Thaipusam and Ponggal. The people of Sabah and Sarawak celebrate harvest festivals known as Ka'amatan in Sabah and Gawai in Sarawak. Christians all over the country observe Easter and Christmas.

The concept of “open house” is something that is unique and common to all Malaysian festivals no matter which one is being celebrated. Open house means that whoever is celebrating one of the various festivals organises a function and invites relatives, friends and neighbours over. Everyone gets to join in and enjoy the many traditional dishes prepared for the occasion and partake in the celebration. The King and top political leaders host open houses to the public during Hari Raya Aidilfitri and all are welcome. Similar open houses are hosted by State heads throughout the country.

In addition, the major festivals are also celebrated on a national scale by the Government. The venue for these celebrations are set at different locations of the country each year to enable people from different parts of the nation join in the celebrations. Tourists and expatriates are also invited to these celebrations where traditional food and cultural programmes are provided.

Malaysia's Major Festivals

Excessive displays of affection in public are considered inappropriate in Malaysia. Most Malaysians are conservative due to religious or cultural sensibilities therefore deem it socially unacceptable behaviour. Care should also be taken when offering drinks and food as well as the manner in which they are offered. It is appropriate to use the right hand only as the left hand, for many, is meant for personal hygiene.

DRESS CODE

Most Malaysians have adopted contemporary clothing that is similar to many other countries but there are some unique aspects of Malaysian traditional attire that will be encountered. A majority of Muslim women wear garments that fully cover their bodies and the use of headscarves is also common. Appropriate attire is required for religious places, formal gatherings and most government functions or business meetings. Suits are worn during formal meetings and social functions. Men and women in the workplace wear appropriate modern attire or their respective traditional dresses. Attire at the beach and swimming pools should be modest.

Batik attire is considered both appropriate and fashionable when attending formal occasions. This unique and versatile Malaysian fabric features hand painted or block motifs.

SAFETY AND SECURITY

Malaysia is a relatively safe country, although robberies, break-ins and snatch thefts do occur as in other countries and it is advisable to take precautionary measures. Most up-market residential areas, including apartments, condominiums and gated communities have in-house security and visitors are monitored. Such properties in prestigious suburbs have special private security firms hired by the residential committees to patrol the area day and night.

Accommodation

- REAL ESTATE AGENCIES
- RENTAL TERMS AND CONDITIONS
- PROPERTY OWNERSHIP FOR NON-RESIDENTS
- ACCOMMODATION COSTS
- SERVICED APARTMENTS
- HOTEL ACCOMMODATION
- OFFICE RENTAL
- PACKERS AND MOVERS
- FURNITURE RENTAL
- PEST CONTROL SERVICES

It is common for most expatriates to stay in hotels or serviced apartments upon arrival in Malaysia, unless permanent accommodation can be arranged in advance. Newly arriving expatriates tend to stay either in hotels or serviced apartments. Those who require long-term accommodations may rent houses or opt to live in condominiums, especially in larger cities. Most condominiums provide security and complete amenities, such as pools, squash and tennis courts, fitness centres, and convenience stores and in some cases, restaurants.

In choosing a place to live, consideration needs to be given to the distance of the work place, as traffic can be a problem during peak hours. For those who are dependent on public transport, including taxis, access to these services is another important consideration. Families with school-aged children might consider residing in the vicinity of the children's school. Proximity to the nearest shopping malls, restaurants and entertainment outlets is another important location factor.

Most of the major international insurance companies will insure expatriates and their belongings against most risks. Insurance can also be taken out locally with international or local insurance companies. Relocating is an especially important period and it is desirable to have insurance coverage against any damage that may occur while relocating.

REAL ESTATE AGENCIES

Real estate agencies are available throughout the country to assist in the rental, purchase and sale of properties. Prior to departure, it is advisable for expatriates to request their own agencies to check with Malaysian real estate agencies pertaining to all property matters.

RENTAL TERMS AND CONDITIONS

It is always easy to find accommodation through using a reputable agency that will match requirements and budgets. Tenants are required to conclude a Tenancy Agreement and pay the balance of the deposit within seven days of deciding upon a property. This includes at least two months rental as a security deposit that is refundable at the end of the tenancy agreement. Tenants will also be required to pay a deposit for utilities. Stamp duty is usually paid by the tenant and the agent's fees are paid by the landlord or owner.

Most tenancy agreements in Malaysia are based upon similar international property agreements. Expatriates should ensure that the agreement clarifies who pays for minor repairs, normal wear and tear, touch-up or repainting should the need arise.

Most leases have what is often called a “special clause” which allows expatriates to terminate the lease early if they are transferred out of the country, or if their work permit is terminated for any reason. If this is not included in the lease, it is a good idea to insist that it be inserted. This may require the tenant to give a specific time frame in writing of their intention to cancel the lease.

PROPERTY OWNERSHIP BY NON-RESIDENTS

Malaysia has an effective legal system and adequate legislation to protect private property. Foreigners are permitted to purchase and secure mortgages from financial institutions for purchasing property and real estate in Malaysia. Any acquisition of property by foreigners requires the approval of the Foreign Investment Committee (FIC) regardless of the value. However, with effect from 1 January 2008, foreigners are allowed to purchase residential units valued at more than RM250,000 per unit, subject to approval by the relevant local authorities, while purchases under the Malaysia My Second Home Programme are to be referred to the Ministry of Tourism.

ACCOMMODATION COSTS

Just as in other leading cities throughout the world, accommodation costs vary in Kuala Lumpur and the rest of Malaysia. Access to services and facilities is all-important and generally speaking, the better the location and access to services and facilities, the higher the accommodation costs. Most expatriates will choose such locations and therefore their cost of accommodation will be higher.

SERVICED APARTMENTS

There is a variety of serviced accommodation in the major cities of the country offering discounted rates for prolonged stays. Prices vary from RM8,000 to RM12,000 per month with facilities provided like housekeeping and maintenance, furnished, well-equipped kitchens, dining and living rooms and 24-hour satellite television and security services. Other facilities like swimming pools, clubhouse and restaurants, gymnasiums, tennis and squash courts, barbecue areas, car rentals and city tour services, meeting rooms, and broadband internet access are also provided. The latest serviced apartments, equipped with the state of art facilities which are popular with expatriates include, Mont Solaris in Mont Kiara, Marc Residence near KLCC and CAPS Square.

HOTEL ACCOMMODATION

Malaysia has many hotels catering to all budgets and their rates are considered some of the cheapest in the world. Facilities in major hotels include air-conditioning, swimming pools, business centres, recreation and leisure activities and restaurants where both table d'hôte and à la carte meals are served. Breakfast is included in the tariff charged by most hotels. Health spas and wellness treatments using a variety of techniques are offered by many hotels and resorts. There are also an increasing number of spas located in major towns offering similar services.

There is currently a government tax of 5% and a 10% service charge (in lieu of tipping), which are both added to hotel bills. Corporate discounts of 20% to 40% for room rates are not uncommon. Rates are generally lower outside Kuala Lumpur but for hotels belonging to major international groups like Hilton and Sheraton, the prices are similar to those charged in Kuala Lumpur. Long term leases with negotiated rates are possible.

OFFICE RENTAL

Information on rental of office space can be found in all major newspapers or from real estate agencies. Serviced offices are also available for those who do not need full offices and can operate using shared services. Most of these shared offices provide unlimited broadband usage, professional secretarial support and are fully furnished. They also offer services like access to boardrooms and meeting rooms, professional telephone answering and the use of a prestigious corporate business address.

For a listing of office rental, refer to Appendix 8.

PACKERS AND MOVERS

There are several reliable companies involved in packing and moving personal household goods. Some operate locally while others are recognised international movers or their affiliates. It is important when securing the services of a mover to consider their size, reputation and international coverage. Packing and moving charges in Malaysia are relatively cheaper than most countries.

FURNITURE RENTAL

Most apartments, condominiums and houses are rented as fully equipped or semi-furnished. Rented property for expatriates is mostly furnished and furniture rental has become less popular as the purchase of new furniture is quite inexpensive. However, leasing of furniture is available at some stores selling new furniture.

Expatriates can log on to www.efr.com.my for more information.

PEST CONTROL SERVICES

Household pests can be common in Malaysia as they are in other parts of the world. The hot and humid climate encourages an active insect population. People living in Malaysia need to be constantly aware of mosquitoes. Dengue fever and malaria are spread by certain types of mosquitoes and even the most exclusive neighbourhoods can be affected at times. As mosquitoes breed in pools of stagnant water, occupants are encouraged to monitor the situation on their property. In an effort to reduce mosquitoes, various authorities conduct regular fogging of properties. The practice of insecticide spraying, as approved by the World Health Organisation (WHO), is one of the effective means in controlling the breeding of mosquitoes.

Other pests that could be encountered include termites, rodents and monkeys. Pest control services can be found in all large urban areas. The local councils, Wildlife Department and Fire Services Department have become quite adept at removing such animals.

For a listing of pest control companies, refer to Appendix 10.

Chapter 3

Utilities

- ELECTRICITY RATES
- HOUSEHOLD GAS RATES
- WATER, SEWERAGE AND GARBAGE
- POSTAL AND COURIER SERVICES
- TELEPHONE AND MOBILE SERVICES

- RADIO AND TELEVISION

Utilities (water, electricity, sewerage and garbage) for houses in Malaysia are comprehensive and effective as well as being reasonably priced when compared to most countries. They are usually charged separately from the rent. On the other hand, service or maintenance charges for apartments and condominiums are usually paid by the landlord and therefore included in the rent. Malaysia has a very efficient postal service that provides services to even remote villages throughout the country. The postal service is provided by Pos Malaysia, a government owned entity. There are several local and international companies providing courier services to complement the services provided by Pos Malaysia.

ELECTRICITY RATES

Electricity can be a major expense depending upon household usage. In Peninsular Malaysia, electricity is provided by Tenaga Nasional Berhad (TNB). Domestic electricity supply is 220 - 240 Volts A/C, 50 hertz and is available 24 hours a day throughout the country and the supply is reliable. Plug fittings are usually of the square, three-pin or round variety and lamp fittings can be either bayonet or screw type.

The rates in Peninsular Malaysia are;

A. For Monthly Consumption Between 0 - 400 kWh/month

- For the first 200 kWh (1 - 200 kWh) per month sen/kWh 21.80

WATER, SEWERAGE AND GARBAGE

In Malaysia, state governments are responsible for the development, operation and maintenance of water supplies. All states offer a reliable water supply and water is treated to WHO standards. However, many people use household filters to improve the quality of water. Water rates vary from state to state and range from 40 sen for the first 20,000 m<sup>3</sup> in Kedah to 90 sen per m<sup>3</sup> in Sabah.

Syarikat Bekalan Air Selangor is responsible for water supply services and distribution for Selangor and the Federal territories of Kuala Lumpur and Putrajaya.

For more information, contact Tel. Toll free 1 - 800 88 5252 or log on to www.syabas.com.my

Sewerage services have been privatised and are operated separately from the water supply. Indah Water Konsortium Sdn. Bhd. is responsible for these services.

For more information, contact Tel: 1 - 800 88 3495 or log on to www.iwk.com.my

Garbage collection and disposal are the responsibility of the municipality, town council or City Hall. These services are covered in the assessment rates charged by these authorities and borne by the house owners. There is no separate charge for garbage collection. Garbage is collected in most urban areas three times a week while most condominiums and apartments have a daily service.

Alam Flora Sdn. Bhd. (AFSB) is the privatised solid waste management company for Central and Eastern regions of the country, covering the states of Selangor, Pahang, Federal Territory of Kuala Lumpur and the Federal Territory of Putrajaya and Cyberjaya. The charges are RM8.00 per month for houses receiving connected sewerage services and RM6.00 per month for houses with individual septic tanks.

For more information, contact AFSB Tel: 1 - 800 880 880 or log on to www.alamflora.com.my

Recycling is encouraged and various facilities including specific bins for different type of waste material and collection centres are available in the major towns and cities.

TELEPHONE AND MOBILE PHONES

The national telephone network is operated by Telekom Malaysia (TM), which has an extensively upgraded infrastructure network with the latest technology, and offers various types of telecommunication services. Public pay telephones are widely available and most models accept 10, 20, or 50 sen coins, Telekom cards (Kadfon and Unicard) or credit cards as mode of payment.

For personal usage, it takes a minimum of seven working days to install telephones in established housing areas. Foreigners have to pay a deposit of RM1,000 for each fixed telephone line. In addition, installation charges of RM 50.00 and wiring charges costing RM50.00 are to be borne by the applicant. Subscribers in the major cities and towns in Peninsular Malaysia are supplied with STD facilities.

Call charges

Local calls are charged 8 sen for the first two minutes and 4 sen for each subsequent minute.

Long Distance Calls

With IDD service, customers can directly dial overseas without the assistance of an operator. This facility allows customers to enjoy cheaper and faster overseas connections. Charges for IDD calls can be itemised in the telephone bill with a minimum charge.

National Calls

National calls are self-dialled calls from a town to another town beyond the adjacent charge area. STD calls are charged on a unit basis, depending on the length of conversation, time of day and distance. Billing is online and statements are fully documented, detailing the number called, time, duration and charge. Telephone rates can be obtained from telephone directories or by calling 1050.

Malaysia has a comprehensive transportation network with connections to the rest of the world, within the country and to its neighbours. Most foreigners arrive by air through Kuala Lumpur International Airport (KLIA).

In 2008, KLIA was the first airport to receive Green Globe 21 (GG21) certification, as the first environmentally friendly airport in the world and was placed 4th in the Skytrax's 2008 World Airport Awards. It was awarded The Brand Laureate, the Grammy Awards for branding for Best Brands Transportation Airports 2007 - 2008. KLIA was also selected for the third consecutive year as the World's Best Airport (15 - 25 million passengers per annum) in the Airports Council International - Airport Service Quality (ACI-ASQ) Awards 2007.

An efficient railway network throughout Peninsular Malaysia is operated by Keretapi Tanah Melayu (KTM) with international connections to Thailand and Singapore. Road transportation is facilitated via a good network of expressways, highways and trunk roads. Express coaches, buses as well as long-distance taxis, take passengers to most parts of the country. Most large cities have efficient and affordable public and private transportation services. KL Sentral is Kuala Lumpur's largest transit hub offering transport connectivity for the Monorail, Light Rail Transit, train, taxi and bus services.

INTERNATIONAL TRAVEL

Air

Malaysia has well-developed and efficient air travel links to the rest of the world. Most inbound travellers arrive in Malaysia on scheduled flights at one of its five international airports: KLIA, Kota Kinabalu, Kuching, Langkawi, and Penang. KLIA is the nation's leading aviation hub for international and domestic flights. Malaysia Airlines (MAS) is the country's national carrier and flies inbound and outbound to over 100 international destinations. MAS was certified as a 5-Star Airline for 2006 - 2008 and was voted the World's Best Cabin Staff for 2007 by Skytrax. It also won the Phoenix Award for 2008 from Air Transport World and received the Asia's Leading Business Class Airline Award for 2007 by World Travel Awards.

AirAsia is a Malaysian budget domestic and regional airline. The leading low fare airline in Asia - AirAsia with a fleet of 72 aircrafts, flies to over 61 domestic and international destinations with 108 routes, and operates over 400 flights daily from hubs located in Malaysia, Thailand and Indonesia.

In 2008, Air Asia was awarded the Best Asian Low-Cost Carrier By TTG Travel Awards 2008 and Asia's Best Budget Airline under Best In Travel Poll 2008 by SmartTravelAsia.com.

AirAsia X, introduced in January 2007, was voted the Best New Airline Of The Year (2008) by the Centre for Asia Pacific Aviation (CAPA). Air Asia X focuses on the low-cost, long-haul segment and is currently flying to destinations in Australia, China, India, Korea, Japan, Middle East and Europe.

Almost 53 other international carriers fly into KLIA and to the rest of the world. Inquiries and bookings for all ticket reservations can be made through travel agencies directly at any airline ticketing office, or electronically via the web.

Air Transfers

Taxis and buses also operate between main cities and airports. While city taxis can transfer passengers to the airport they are not allowed to carry passengers back to the city. A pre-paid airport limousine service is available at both budget and premium rates from the airport. Prices are competitively fixed for various destinations. A pre-paid bus service operates from the airport to a city terminal in Jalan Duta, Kuala Lumpur and public buses also ply the route.

KLIA Ekspres

The Ekspres Rail Link Sdn. Bhd. (KLIA Ekspres) provides a non-stop 28 minute train service that connects the airport to the KL City Air Terminal at the KL Sentral Station in Kuala Lumpur. The AirAsia group, including, Indonesia AirAsia and Thai AirAsia are among the budget airlines that utilise the LCCT. The Skybus Shuttle provides services to and from KL Sentral to the LCCT. The journey between KL Sentral and LCCT takes around 1 hour and 15 minutes. The cost for a one way ride is RM9.00 and tickets can be purchased on-line, on board Air Asia flights or on board the Sky Bus itself.

The KTMB's most exciting and adventurous rail journey is The Eastern & Oriental Express, a luxury rail service, modelled on the famous Venice Simplon-Orient-Express in Europe, providing a subtle balance of Eastern culture and cuisine and Western comforts dating back to a colonial age of rattan chairs, linen suits and tea dances. The train offers a 3-night Singapore to Bangkok journey, and a 3-night Bangkok to Singapore journey following a fixed schedule.

DOMESTIC TRAVEL

Air

MAS, AirAsia, and more recently Hornbill Skyways Sdn Bhd and Firefly Airlines, operate most of the domestic flights in Peninsular and East Malaysia from the five international airports, 14 domestic airports, several small islands and a series of small rural airports that connect remote villages in the interior to larger towns and cities. Private carrier, Berjaya Air flies to several tourist island resorts in the country.

In Sarawak, private carrier Hornbill Skyways Sdn Bhd, based in Kuching provides emergency medical services, sightseeing tours, aerial photography as well as passenger flights. In Peninsular Malaysia, Firefly Airlines, a subsidiary of MAS, commenced operations mainly for the domestic sector with Penang and Subang as its hubs. Firefly currently flies to Penang, Kota Bharu, Kuala Terengganu, Kuantan and Langkawi. It has also extended its coverage to Phuket and Koh Samui in Thailand.

For more information, log on to www.fireflyz.com.my

Sea

Scheduled and charter ferry services operate to many of the islands scattered around the country. In some cases, they are the only means of accessing these islands. Popular island resorts in Malaysia are Langkawi, Pangkor, Tioman, Redang, Pulau Perhentian, Pulau Besar and Labuan. Cruise ships ply the route between the major port of Port Klang to destinations in Thailand and Singapore as well as provide overnight cruises to the island of Penang.

For more information on ferry operators and cruise ships, log on to www.tourism.gov.my

Rail

Keretapi Tanah Melayu Berhad (KTMB) operates a reliable domestic train service at affordable prices. The main north-south rail line passes through major cities and towns such as Johor Bahru, Kuala Lumpur, Ipoh, Arau and Padang Besar. The East Coast service branches from the main line at Gemas in Negeri Sembilan and terminates at Tumpat in Kelantan.

Road

Most places in Peninsular Malaysia are accessible via the North-South Highway, East-Coast Highway and the Kuala Lumpur-Kuantan Highway, which link up coastal roads and the rest of the road systems in the country. There are also highways connecting towns and villages throughout the country. There is also a good network of highways and roads connecting the major towns in Sabah and Sarawak.

Reliable bus services are available and operate between Kuala Lumpur and all major cities and towns in Peninsular Malaysia as well as to Singapore and Thailand. Buses travelling between major cities and towns are air-conditioned. Some of these coaches are designated as business class or executive coaches and offer a higher level of service and comfort. There are also similar services operating in East Malaysia.

More information on bus terminal and ticketing can be obtained from bus stations located in various parts of Kuala Lumpur like the Puduraya Bus Station, Putra Pekeliling Bus Station (Hentian Putra Pekeliling), Duta Bus Station (Hentian Duta) and Old Town Petaling Jaya. Similar bus terminals are located in the major cities or towns in other parts of the country. The main bus operators in Peninsular Malaysia are Plusliner, Ekspres Nasional and Rapid KL. Malaysia also has a network of taxis that offer services to major cities and towns operating from most bus stations to offer passengers a quicker alternative to their destinations.

INNER CITY TRANSPORT

Public transport offers a regular and economical method of getting around urban areas, especially Kuala Lumpur. KTMB operates a commuter rail system to various parts of the Klang Valley (KL to Kajang, Seremban to Rawang and Sentul to Port Klang).

Besides the commuter rail service, there are three inner city light rail networks, namely the Star Light Rail Transit (STAR), Putra Light Rail Transit (PUTRA) and KL Monorail with designated interchange points for transfer between the various systems. These services operate between the hours of 6 a.m. to 12 midnight and are extended for various festivities. Information brochures are available at train stations. A 'park and ride' system and feeder bus services are available for users of the commuter rail system and the light rail networks at various stations.

Kuala Lumpur Sentral (KL Sentral)

KL Sentral is the transportation hub or nucleus of the modern and efficient rail and road transportation system of the country. Besides being at the convergence of an efficient rail system with KTMB's intercity and commuter services, the KLIA Ekspres, the STAR, PUTRA and the Monorail, it is also the hub for buses, tour coaches and taxis. The complex also has several retail outlets and cafes offering a conducive environment for travellers.

Pre-paid cards and monthly passes at discounted rates are available to regular users of Rapid KL, KTM, Komuter, STAR and PUTRA. In addition, these modes of transport also offer tickets at discounted rates that allow passengers to travel as many routes as they want in a day.

Regular and scheduled buses operate along all main routes in the big cities and towns. Rapid KL which operates in Kuala Lumpur also links up with the various other modes of inner city transport besides offering the normal bus services in the city comprising buses with air conditioning. More recently, double-decker buses offer services for destinations within the Klang Valley.

Taxi charges in Malaysia are relatively cheaper as compared with other major cities around the world. A flag fall system is used and set meter rates are applicable for distance travelled. Additional charges are levied on excess luggage and additional passengers. There is a surcharge of 50% on top of the meter rates for travel between 12 midnight and 6 a.m. Passengers also have to pay the tolls incurred by taxis when using tolled roads. These are clearly outlined when making a telephone taxi booking. Tipping is not a norm, except for exceptional services. Taxis can be hailed on the streets and from taxi stands. Budget and Premium taxis are available especially in major hotels, shopping malls and from KLIA, LCCT and KL Sentral.

CAR RENTAL AND LEASING

Several car hire companies offer cars for rent on a daily or longer-term basis. Prices range from RM360.00 to RM550.00 per day depending on the make of the car and get progressively cheaper with longer rentals. Online worldwide booking and reservation services are provided by some companies.

DRIVING IN MALAYSIA

Driving in a new country is never easy but most expatriates will find Malaysian traffic manageable. Many people in Malaysia own cars and urban peak-hour traffic and abundant motorcyclists add a new dimension for many new motorists. Vehicles are driven on the left-hand side of the road and the road rules are based on the United Kingdom's system.

Driving around the country is convenient with excellent roads, highways and trunk roads between all states. Road signs in Malaysia follow international protocol, and are mostly in the National Language. Some are in English with graphics. A common word from the National Language is jalan, which means street or road.

A valid driving licence or international driving licence is mandatory for driving in Malaysia. Malaysian driving licences must be renewed annually or up to a maximum of five years and are issued by the Road Transport Department or Jabatan Pengangkutan Jalan (JPJ) that takes into consideration the motorist's past driving record and any outstanding traffic summons.

To apply for a local driving licence to supplement an existing foreign one, motorists need to submit their application to the Road Transport Department with their existing driving licence, passport (plus photocopy), two photos and current work permit. The main office in the Klang Valley is:

Ministry of Transport
Road Transport Department
Driving Licence Division
Level 3 Block D 4, Parcel D
Precinct 1, Putrajaya
Malaysia

For more information, contact 03 - 8886 6000 or log on to www.mot.gov.my

TOLL CHARGES

Many expressways and highways in Malaysia are privatised and users are required to pay toll charges. Other highways, trunk roads and local roads are free. Toll charges vary but are mostly levied according to the distance travelled. Charges vary for private cars, taxis, buses and trucks and a car journey of 200 km costs approximately RM120.

Motorists can pay cash to toll collectors or use the Touch n Go or SMART prepaid electronic cards at the end of each journey. The tolled highways of various operators criss-cross the nation and the prepaid cards can be used interchangeably on all toll ways. The cards can be reloaded at some toll gates, toll operator offices, some petrol stations and ATM machines.

The Touch n Go card can also be used in an increasing number of parking lots and public transport systems in Kuala Lumpur.

Toll Plaza

PETROL AND DIESEL

Petrol and diesel are sold in Malaysia by the litre and mostly through self-service petrol stations owned by the local petroleum company, PETRONAS, or leading international oil companies like Shell, BHP, Esso, Caltex and Mobil. Credit cards are accepted at all major stations. The current price of unleaded petrol is RM1.80 per litre for super (RON 97) and RM1.70 per litre for regular (RON 92). The price of diesel at the pump is RM1.70 per litre. Prices of petrol and diesel are subject to revision based on changes in world prices.

BUYING A CAR

Cars are the most convenient mode of transport in Malaysia and buying a new or second-hand car is relatively easy. Approval Permits (AP), issued by the Ministry of International Trade and Industry (MITI), are required for the importation of cars.

For more details, contact the Ministry of International Trade and Industry at Tel: 03 - 6203 3022 or log on to www.miti.gov.my

Locally manufactured Malaysian national cars (Proton and Perodua) are generally cheaper than imported ones. Several models of foreign-assembled or imported cars are also available in Malaysia. The prices of national cars range from RM63,000 to RM68,000 for a 1.5cc model. In the case of imported cars a Mercedes Benz E200K costs around RM356,000, Honda Accord 2.4 VTec RM172,000 and a Volvo S80 is around RM275,000. The Automobile Association of Malaysia (AAM) is a good source of information for car buyers. Used cars in good condition are also available at affordable prices.

CAR FINANCING

Loans for new cars are provided by most financial institutions for a period of five to seven years and interest rates are quite competitive. Generally, loans are not available for cars older than ten years, unless they are vintage cars. The resale value of cars is an important factor to be considered when buying a car. Second-hand car dealers can assist prospective buyers in obtaining a loan from registered finance companies and AAM can also assist in providing information on the value of both new and used cars.

CAR EXPENSES

The expense of operating a car depends on the model, engine capacity, and age and fuel consumption. On average, for a Malaysian-made national car, owners need to pay about RM300 – RM700 for a normal service, which includes mechanic's charges and replacement parts.

Road tax renewal has to be done annually and depends on the car's engine capacity but is approximately RM200 per year for a 1.6 litre car. Road tax charges for privately owned diesel vehicles is 400% higher than petrol-driven vehicles.

All cars need to be insured with third party coverage being the minimum. Cars will not be registered by the JPJ unless they are insured. Comprehensive insurance is not compulsory, but all cars financed by loans will need such insurance. Documented overseas no-claim bonuses (NCB) are recognised by Malaysian insurers.

EMERGENCY AND BREAKDOWN SERVICES

Various organisations like automobile associations, insurance companies and car manufacturers provide automobile emergency and breakdown services, with the AAM being the largest. It offers a variety of services to members like free personal accident insurance, 24 hour nationwide breakdown services, new and used car financing, car insurance, technical advice, free legal advice, road tax and driving licence renewals.

Refer to Appendix 15 for a listing of companies providing such services.

Medical and Dental Facilities

- MEDICAL FEES
- MEDICAL INSURANCE
- MEDICAL TOURISM
- DENTAL AND OPHTHALMOLOGICAL SERVICES

Malaysia has good public and private health services. General hospitals, district hospitals and clinics provide care for all at minimal charges but non - citizens are required to pay higher rates. Private medical facilities present an alternative and are found in all major cities and towns. These establishments are well equipped with advanced medical technology and staffed with doctors, specialists and paramedical personnel trained to international standards. All private medical centres are approved and licensed by the Ministry of Health. Most of these medical centres possess internationally recognised accreditation such as the MS ISO 9002 and the Malaysian Standard Quality of Health (MSQH) certification based on the Australian Healthcare Standards. Malaysia has adequate medical specialists and physicians to treat a variety of medical problems both in government and private hospitals.

These hospitals offer comprehensive services in virtually all medical disciplines including, cardio-thoracic surgery, orthopaedic surgery, obstetrics & gynaecology, paediatrics, ophthalmology, speech therapy, radiology and dentistry.

The National Heart Institute or Institut Jantung Negara (IJN) in Kuala Lumpur provides state-of-the-art treatment and care for heart ailments. The institute is fast becoming a popular treatment centre for patients from neighbouring countries. The Subang Jaya Medical Centre (SJMC) and the Damansara Fertility Centre have in recent years become important in offering specialist medical services in obstetrics and gynaecology to patients from overseas.

Medical prescriptions are handled by hospitals and clinics rather than by independent pharmacies, although there are many pharmacies that offer over-the-counter prescriptions supervised by a pharmacist. Most companies employing expatriates provide medical facilities and will have an approved panel of general practitioners (GPs) for their employees.

Refer to Appendix 14 for a listing of government and private hospitals. For more information, log on to www.moh.gov.my or www.health.com.my

MEDICAL FEES

Medical fees vary from government to private hospitals depending upon whether the consultation is with a GP or a specialist. Medical fees with a GP start from RM35.00 for a consultation in any small private clinic, without medication being prescribed. For specialist consultations, fees start from RM75.00 depending upon the location, level of treatment and facilities of the private hospital. The cost for an executive medical screening is between RM300 to RM1,000. Charges for hospitalisation ranges from RM200 for a single bedded to RM1,000 for a VIP Suite. Seeking advice from the Malaysian Medical Association (MMA) or other resident expatriates is often a way of finding out the medical services that best serve the individual's needs.

MEDICAL INSURANCE

Expatriates should consider insuring themselves for personal accident, personal liability and hospitalisation benefits. Those who already have private insurance in their own country should enquire on extending their coverage while in Malaysia.

Most employers will provide insurance coverage for their foreign employees and families during the tenure of their employment in Malaysia. Insurance is readily available in Malaysia for expatriates who are not covered, or if in need of additional coverage. Hospitalisation and specialist medical treatment, especially for surgery, is available for expatriates and their families.

MEDICAL TOURISM

Under the Third Industrial Master Plan (2006 - 2020), the government has identified medical tourism as one of the development strategies and is actively promoting it with special initiatives to attract tourists. Healthcare cost in Malaysia is one of the most inexpensive in the region and this is one the key factors that attracts patients to Malaysia. Patients can undergo treatment, recuperate and enjoy a memorable holiday for much less than what would cost them for treatment alone in other countries.

Medical tourism in Malaysia combines various aspects of leisure and wellness, such as medical screening, cosmetic surgery and health spas promoting reflexology, aromatherapy, facial and skin enhancement, as well as traditional healing and complementary medicine. Attractive medical tourism packages have been drawn up by the Ministry of Tourism.

For more information, log on to www.tourism.gov.my

DENTAL AND OPHTHALMOLOGICAL SERVICES

Malaysia has a high standard of dental healthcare and optical services. Qualified dentists provide treatment using modern technology. Charges for dental care such as scaling and polishing start from RM80.00 onwards. Fillings cost around RM65.00, tooth extraction and medication range from RM45.00 – RM80.00. Crowning and dentures range from RM600 to RM1000 per tooth.

For optical services, patients can either seek treatment at specialist medical centres or visit the Tun Hussein Onn National Eye Hospital in Petaling Jaya which offers specialist eye treatment.

Education

- EDUCATION FACILITIES PROVIDED BY GOVERNMENT
- ENROLMENT IN GOVERNMENT SCHOOL
- PRE-SCHOOL EDUCATION
- INTERNATIONAL SCHOOLS
- DEGREE / DIPLOMA PROGRAMMES

Malaysia has a well developed and comprehensive educational system in both public and private, and is fast emerging as a regional hub for education. There are reputable international schools in all major towns with English, French, German, Japanese, Korean and Taiwanese as the medium of instruction. There is also an Indian international school operating in Kuala Lumpur. Malaysia is also the pioneer in this region to have branch campuses of foreign universities offering twinning programmes with well-known universities and major colleges from throughout the world. Quality education from nursery right up to the highest level of university education is available at a very reasonable cost.

Foreign students can enrol in private or international schools or opt for expatriate schools where they can continue the syllabi of their respective countries, thus ensuring continuity of education. Currently, there are more than 40,000 foreign students enrolled in Malaysian schools and institutions of higher learning.

EDUCATION FACILITIES PROVIDED BY THE GOVERNMENT

The public or national school curriculum is taught in the National Language, Mandarin and Tamil. English is a subject taught in all schools and is also the medium of instruction for mathematics and science subjects.

Children of diplomats, or children whose parents have authorised work permits or those with permanent resident status wishing to study in national schools have to apply for a place and the application must be submitted for approval to the Ministry of Education. Expatriate students are not entitled to free education like local students and will have to pay for fees as determined by the government. The cost of education at local schools is affordable but language could be a barrier for expatriate children enrolled in these schools. International schools cost substantially more than public schools but they cater to students who require continuity of education.

PRE-SCHOOL EDUCATION

Pre-school education is offered by all international schools and also by some private kindergartens in the cities and major towns.

INTERNATIONAL SCHOOLS

International education is available in most major cities, using various curricula including American, Australian, British, French, German, Indonesian, Japanese and Taiwanese.

Expatriate families prefer to live in close proximity to their children's school, as travelling across town can be time consuming. Many international schools operate their own buses or hire bus contractors to transport children to and from school. Currently, school bus fares to and from international schools range from RM300 to RM500 per semester, depending upon location and distance from school to home.

Fees vary from school to school and discounts are normally provided for families with more than one child attending the same school. Registration fees for example, range from RM500 to RM1,000 depending on the level (pre-school, elementary and high school) and this is normally non - refundable. Tuition fees range from RM7,500 to RM66,000 per year depending on the level of education.

DEGREE / DIPLOMA PROGRAMMES

With more than 500 institutions of higher learning around the country, Malaysia offers international students a wide choice in terms of courses, universities and location. Degrees in various fields including, engineering, medicine, law, and creative arts can be obtained at a relatively affordable cost. Language is not a barrier as English is used as the medium of instruction.

Several institutions of tertiary education offer twinning programmes, where the tuition is divided between studies at a Malaysian institution and at affiliated universities overseas or students can choose to complete their studies locally and are awarded degrees by foreign universities. The more established institutions are Inti International College, Nilai International College, International Medical College, Segi College, Sedaya College, Sunway College, Taylor's College and HELP College. Some foreign universities have also established Malaysian campuses to conduct their respective programmes. The foreign university branch campuses in Malaysia are, Curtin University of Technology (Sarawak Campus), Swinburne University of Technology (Sarawak Campus) and University of Nottingham (Semenyih Campus) and Monash University (Sunway Campus).

Malaysian universities offer part time post- graduate courses, including Masters of Business Administration (MBA), that may appeal to expatriates working and staying in Malaysia.

Banking and Insurance

- BANKING
- REMITTANCES
- INSURANCE

BANKING

Malaysia has a well managed and efficient banking system monitored by the Central Bank (Bank Negara Malaysia). In addition to local banks, foreign banks have set up branches in the country and also provide services including night banking facilities.

Banking hours vary from bank to bank and branch to branch, but most banks operate from Monday to Friday, 9.30 am till 4.00 pm. However, banks in the states of Terengganu, Kelantan and Kedah are closed on Fridays but operate on Sundays. Major banks, including foreign banks, located in main cities and shopping malls, are open on Saturdays and Sundays. The operational hours vary from bank to bank with some providing night banking facilities.

Bank services, include remittances into and out of the country, foreign currency accounts and credit card facilities, online banking or telephone banking and bill payment services. Expatriates wishing to open savings or current (cheque) accounts are required to produce their passport and letter of introduction from their employers.

REMITTANCES

Payment to countries outside Malaysia can be made in most foreign currencies. These include;

- payment to non-residents for the repatriation of profits by foreign investors, dividends, interest, royalties, rental and commissions:
- payment to non-residents, for repatriation of portfolio capital and profits, are subject to the payment of a levy by non-residents: and
- payments for the importation of goods and services are also freely allowed but have to be in a foreign currency which commercial banks are authorised to handle.

Investments abroad and payments under a guarantee for non-trade purposes require prior approval from Bank Negara if the amount exceeds RM10,000.

For more information, log on to www.bnm.gov.my. For a listing of major commercial banks, refer to Appendix 17.

INSURANCE

Insurance facilities and services in Malaysia are similar to those found in other parts of the world. Expatriates are advised to purchase some form of insurance with regard to health, travel and property. The insurance industry is also regulated in Malaysia and the premiums are standardised.

Personal liability and personal property policies may only cover incidents in Malaysia, and it is important for those who travel regularly to ensure policies have worldwide coverage. It is also important to find out whether items like laptop computers and cameras are covered by household insurance policies when the items are used outside the house. Insurance policies can either be based upon depreciation or full replacement of the items.

This should be clarified when taking out the insurance policy. It is recommended that receipts for all purchases be retained in order to facilitate an insurance claim or inspection by Customs officials. Household possessions should be reassessed annually to enable additional coverage on new items purchased.

Homeowners and household insurance are recommended for protection against theft and fire to personal property. Most insurance companies are affiliated with international companies and insurance claims processes are similar to the rest of the world.

HOLIDAYING IN MALAYSIA

The country has many holiday attractions that will appeal to expatriates. Attractive and competitively priced packages to all parts of the country make Malaysia a tourist paradise. Malaysia was awarded the Best Ecotourism Destination by the Travelweekly (Asia) Industry Awards 2008.

Malaysia's multicultural society offers opportunities to expatriates to learn more about Asian cultures. Multiculturalism is the fabric of society and is punctuated with elaborate festivities, unique arts and crafts, multi ethnic dance forms and food and a unique blend of architectural structures.

Malaysia's geographically diverse attractions begin from Mount Kinabalu, (4,095 metres), one of the highest mountains in South East Asia, down to a shoreline surrounded by over a thousand islands, of which 38 are protected as marine parks. The natural environment is perfect for bird watching, trekking through ancient rainforests, mangrove forest exploration, white-water rafting, caving, mountain climbing, hiking in cooler temperature hill stations and camping. Along the extensive coastline and in the waters surrounding the tropical islands, the sun, sea and underwater adventure offer relaxation and excitement for all. The seas are ideal for diving, snorkelling, swimming, yachting, wind-surfing, boating, game fishing and underwater photography.

Malaysia also presents an exotic blend of the old and new that encapsulates the best that Asia has to offer. The National Park situated in Pahang, and Batu Caves in Kuala Lumpur in Peninsula Malaysia; the Gunung Mulu National Park in Sarawak; the Kinabalu National Park, and the Sepilok Orang Utan Sanctuary in Sabah are some of the main attractions.

The Gunung Mulu National Park and the Kinabalu National Park have been included in the World Heritage List and are must-visit scenic areas.

The 52,864 hectare Gunung Mulu National Park is dominated by Mount Mulu which is a 2,377 meter sandstone pinnacle and at least 295 kilometres of explored caves. With its deeply incised canyons, wild rivers, rainforest mountains, spectacular limestone pinnacles and cave passages, Mulu has outstanding scenic values.

The Mulu Caves is also the world's most extensive cave system that includes the world's largest cave chamber, the world's longest cave passage and the longest cave in South East Asia. Four well lit caves are open to visitors daily while the others are accessible to visitors with specialised caving equipment.

The Kinabalu National Park in Sabah is dominated by Mount Kinabalu. The Park has been designated as a Centre of Plant Diversity for South East Asia and is exceptionally rich in species of flora from the Himalayas, China, Australia, Malaysia, as well as pan-tropical flora. The Park is also home to the majority of Borneo's mammals, birds, amphibians and invertebrates.

Expatriates interested in ecotourism can visit Kenyir Lake in Terengganu, Endau Rompin Lake in Pahang and Danum Valley in Sabah. Malaysia also offers exciting holidays in island resorts found off Peninsular Malaysia and Sabah. These include Penang, Langkawi, Pangkor, Tioman, Redang, Pulau Perhentian, Labuan and Sipadan.

Another major landmark is the Kuala Lumpur Tower where one can enjoy colourful cultural performances and a nature walk. The urban landscape also features many heritage buildings such as the Moorish Sultan Abdul Samad Building, the Ku Kongsi in Penang and the Portuguese Settlement in Malacca. Expatriates can get an insight into the culture and traditions of these groups.

Just a short drive away from the cities, the villages or kampungs provide the essence of life that is uniquely Malaysian. Here, a lush carpet of rice paddy fields, water buffaloes and children fishing in small streams that adjoin extensive rubber or oil palm estates, present a tranquil rural scene.

Visitors can experience these attractions driving along an excellent road system or use a transportation network that efficiently covers the whole country. Malaysia is also a very family-friendly holiday destination and children are welcome in all establishments. There are various theme parks, cultural attractions, museums, national parks and water sports for them to discover and enjoy.

These Spas offer treatment derived from Malay, Indian, Balinese and Thai cultures, providing visitors a wide choice of treatments. ## Chapter 11

Income Tax

- PERSONAL TAX
- COMPANY TAX
- DOUBLE TAXATION AGREEMENTS

PERSONAL TAX

All income of companies and individuals accrued in / derived from or remitted to Malaysia is liable to tax under the purview of the Malaysian Inland Revenue Board. However, income remitted to Malaysia by resident companies (other than companies carrying on the business of banking, insurance, air and sea transportation), non-resident companies and non-resident individuals are exempted from tax.

Workers in Malaysia pay income tax on income earned in the current year based on a sliding scale. Annual returns are based upon self-assessment. Resident individuals with chargeable income of RM16,667 and above per annum, after deduction of personal relief are taxed from 1 - 28 %. Non resident individuals, who are not entitled to any personal relief, are charged a flat rate of 28%. Effective from the year of assessment 2004, income remitted to Malaysia by a resident individual is exempted from tax.

Residence status for tax purposes is not determined by nationality or citizenship but rather by the duration of stay in the country. Those who stay in Malaysia for less than 182 days per year are treated as non-residents. Any foreign income received in Malaysia by a non-resident is exempted from tax.

COMPANY TAX

A company whether resident or not is assessable on income accrued in or derived from Malaysia. Income derived from sources outside Malaysia and remitted by a resident company is exempted from tax, except in the case of the banking and insurance business, sea and air transport undertakings. A company is considered a resident in Malaysia if the control and management of its affairs are exercised in Malaysia.

Under Budget 2008, corporate tax was further reduced to 25 per cent for the year of assessment 2009 from 26 per cent for the year of assessment 2008.

DOUBLE TAXATION AGREEMENTS

Agreements for the avoidance of double taxation between Malaysia and several countries to prevent the incidences of double taxation on income such as profits, dividends, interest and royalties that are derived from one country and remitted to another country are in force. Diplomatic missions in Malaysia and tax authorities in the respective countries and the Malaysian Inland Revenue Board can provide information on the countries concerned.

Sources of income subject to income tax mainly involve business, trade or profession, employment, dividends, interest or discounts, rents and royalties and occupation of non-business premises. Payments for technical advice, assistance or services rendered in connection with technical management or administration of any scientific, industrial or commercial undertaking, venture, project or scheme are also taxable. The advice of a tax consultant should be sought when necessary.

Employees Provident Fund (EPF)

The EPF is a social security institution formed according to the Laws of Malaysia. The Employees Provident Fund Act 1991 (Act 452) provides retirement benefits for members through management of their savings in an efficient and reliable manner. The EPF also provides a convenient framework for employers to meet their statutory and moral obligations to their employees.

It is mandatory for private and non-pensionable public sector employees to become members of the EPF. Expatriates and their employers are exempted from compulsory contributions. However, expatriate employers as well as employees, including domestic servants employed in a residential home and whose wages are paid by an individual (house owner), can elect to become members.

A contribution constitutes the amount of money credited to members' individual accounts in the EPF. The amount is calculated based on the monthly wages of an employee. The current rate of contribution is 23% of the employee's wages of which 11% is from the employee's monthly wage while 12% is contributed by the employer. Some local and foreign companies contribute more than the minimum mandatory requirement.

Expatriates and foreign workers are exempted under the Act. However, if they choose to contribute, expatriate employers are required to contribute at the rate of RM5.00 per month per employee and expatriate employees are required to contribute 11% of their monthly wages. Expatriates can claim back these payments when they leave the country.
